ORVILLE WRIGHT BEATS THE WORLD IN HIS AEROPLANE

Ohio Aviator Makes Great Flight at Fort Myer and Easily Smashes All Records by Remaining in Air 57 Minutes and 31 Seconds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.-A new world's record in aeroplane flights was established at Fort Myer, Va., to-day, when William Orville Wright circled above the broad parade ground there fifty-eight times, and remained in the air fifty-seven minutes and thirty-one seconds, official

Wright's smashing of all previous records carried out his promise of yesterday evening after his remarkable ascension, when at the maximum height of sixty feet, going ten and three quarters miles in all and averaging thirty-six miles an hour, he spent eleven minutes in one flight and eight minutes in the other.

Orville Wright's great feat has followed a succession of record ings made by aviators recently. Louis Delagrange made a new doings made by aviators recently. Louis Delagrange made a new world's record last Sunday at 1889, France, by remaining in the air 20 minutes 54 4-5 seconds. On Monday he did better than this by minutes 54 4-0 seconds. On monday he did better than this by staying 31 minutes, but the officials only allowed him 28 minutes. Wilbur Wright, a brother of Orville, a week ago made a record that was only a fraction below 20 minutes. Previous to that Farman had held the world's record at 20 minutes.
